Spelling (see English Appendix 1) Pupils should be taught to: use further prefixes and suffixes and understand the guidance for adding them spell some words with 'silent' letters [for example, knight, psalm, solemn] continue to distinguish between homophones and other words which are often confused use knowledge of morphology and etymology in spelling and understand that the spelling of some words needs to be learnt specifically, as listed in English Appendix 1 use dictionaries to check the spelling and meaning of words use the first three or four letters of a word to check spelling, meaning or both of these in a dictionary use a thesaurus.	Pupils should be taught to: • write legibly, fluently and with increasing speed by: • choosing which shape of a letter to use when given choices and deciding whether or not to join specific little • choosing the writing implement that is best suited for a task.	Pupils should be taught to: develop their understanding of the concepts set out in English Appendix 2 by: recognising vocabulary and structures that are appropriate for formal speech and writing, including subjunctive forms using passive verbs to affect the presentation of information in a sentence using the perfect form of verbs to mark relationships of time and cause using expanded noun phrases to convey complicated information concisely using modal verbs or adverbs to indicate degrees of possibility using relative clauses beginning with who, which, where, when, whose, that or with an implied (i.e. omitted) relative pronoun learning the grammar for years 5 and 6 in English Appendix 2 indicate grammatical and other features by: using commas to clarify meaning or avoid ambiguity in writing using hyphens to avoid ambiguity using brackets, dashes or commas to indicate parenthesis using semi-colons, colons or dashes to mark boundaries between independent clauses using a colon to introduce a list punctuating bullet points consistently use and understand the grammatical terminology in English Appendix 2 accurately and appropriately in discussing their writing and reading.	Pupils should be taught to: plan their writing by: identifying the audience for and purpose of the writing, selecting the appropriate form and using other similar writing as models for their own noting and developing initial ideas, drawing on reading and research where necessary in writing narratives, considering how authors have developed characters and settings in what pupils have read, listened to or seen performed draft and write by: selecting appropriate grammar and vocabulary, understanding how such choices can change and enhance meaning in narratives, describing settings, characters and atmosphere and integrating dialogue to convey character and advance the action précising longer passages using a wide range of devices to build cohesion within and across paragraphs using further organisational and presentational devices to structure text and to guide the reader [for example, headings, bullet points, underlining] evaluate and edit by: assessing the effectiveness of their own and others' writing proposing changes to vocabulary, grammar and punctuation to enhance effects and clarify meaning ensuring the consistent and correct use of tense throughout a piece of writing ensuring correct subject and verb agreement when using singular and plural, distinguishing between the language of speech and writing and choosing the appropriate register proof-read for spelling and punctuation errors perform their own compositions, using appropriate intonation, volume, and movement so that meaning is clear.

Word	Converting nouns or adjectives into verbs using suffixes [for example, -ate; -ise; -ify]
	Verb prefixes [for example, dis-, de-, mis-, over- and re-]
Sentence	Relative clauses beginning with who, which, where, when, whose, that, or an omitted relative pronoun
	Indicating degrees of possibility using adverbs [for example, perhaps, surely] or modal verbs [for example, might, should, will, must]
Text	Devices to build cohesion within a paragraph [for example, then, after that, this, firstly]
Linking ideas across paragraphs using adverbials of time [for example, later], place [for example, nearby] and number [for example choices [for example, he had seen her before]
Punctuation	Brackets, dashes or commas to indicate parenthesis
	Use of commas to clarify meaning or avoid ambiguity
Terminology for pupils	modal verb, relative pronoun
	relative clause
	parenthesis, bracket, dash cohesion, ambiguity
Year 6: Detail of co	ntent to be introduced (statutory requirement)
Word	The difference between vocabulary typical of informal speech and vocabulary appropriate for formal speech and writing [for example, find out - discover;
	ask for - request; go in - enter]
	How words are related by meaning as synonyms and antonyms [for example, big, large, little].
Sentence	Use of the passive to affect the presentation of information in a sentence [for example, I broke the window in the greenhouse versus The window in the greenhouse was broken (by me)].
	The difference between structures typical of informal speech and structures appropriate for formal speech and writing [for example, the use of question tags: He's your friend, isn't he?, or the use of subjunctive forms such as If I were or Were they to come in some very formal writing and speech]
Text	Linking ideas across paragraphs using a wider range of cohesive devices: repetition of a word or phrase, grammatical connections [for example, the use of adverbials such as on the other hand, in contrast, or as a consequence], and ellipsis
	Layout devices [for example, headings, sub-headings, columns, bullets, or tables, to structure text]
Punctuation	Use of the semi-colon, colon and dash to mark the boundary between independent clauses [for example, It's raining; I'm fed up]
	Use of the colon to introduce a list and use of semi-colons within lists
	Punctuation of bullet points to list information
	How hyphens can be used to avoid ambiguity [for example, man eating shark versus man-eating shark, or recover versus re-cover]
Terminology for pupils	subject, object active, passive synonym, antonym
	ellipsis, hyphen, colon, semi-colon, bullet points

Spelling - years 5 and 6

New work for years 5 and 6

Statutory requirements	Rules and guidance (non-statutory)	Example words (non-statutory)
Endings which sound like /jos/	Not many common words end like this.	vicious, precious, conscious, delicious, malicious, suspicious spelt -cious or -tious	If the root word ends in -ce, the /ʃ/ sound is usually spelt as c - e.g. vice - vicious, grace - gracious, space - spacious, malice - malicious. Exception: anxious.	ambitious, cautious, fictitious, infectious, nutritious
Endings which sound like /jol/	-cial is common after a vowel letter and -tial after a consonant letter, but there are some exceptions.	official, special, artificial, partial, confidential, essential
	Exceptions: initial, financial, commercial, provincial (the spelling of the last three is clearly related to finance, commerce and province).
Words ending in -ant, -ance/-ancy, -ent,	Use -ant and -ance/-ancy if there is a related word with a /æ/ or /ei/ sound in the right position; -ation endings are often a clue.	observant, observance, (observation), expectant (expectation), hesitant, hesitancy (hesitation), tolerant, tolerance (toleration), substance (substantial)
-ence/-ency	Use -ent and -ence/-ency after soft c (/s/ sound), soft g (/d ₃ / sound) and qu, or if there is a related word with a clear $/\epsilon$ / sound in the right position.	innocent, innocence, decent, decency, frequent, frequency, confident, confidence (confidential)
	There are many words, however, where the above guidance does not help. These words just have to be learnt.	assistant, assistance, obedient, obedience, independent, independence

Words ending in -able and -ible
Words ending in -ably and -ibly
Adding suffixes beginning with vowel letters to words ending in - fer
Use of the hyphen

Statutory requirements

Rules and guidance (non-statutory)	Example words (non-statutory)
The -able/-ably endings are far more common than the -ible/-ibly endings.	adorable/adorably (adoration),
As with -ant and -ance/-ancy, the -able ending is used if there is a related word ending in -ation.	applicable/applicably (application), considerable/considerably (consideration), tolerable/tolerably (toleration)
If the -able ending is added to a word ending in -ce or -ge, the e after the c or g must be kept as those letters would otherwise have their 'hard' sounds (as in cap and gap) before the a of the -able ending.	changeable, noticeable, forcible, legible
The -able ending is usually but not always used if a complete root word can be heard before it, even if there is no related word ending in -ation. The first five examples opposite are obvious; in reliable, the complete word rely is heard, but the y changes to i in accordance with the rule.	dependable, comfortable, understandable, reasonable, enjoyable, reliable
The -ible ending is common if a complete root word can't be heard before it but it also sometimes occurs when a complete word can be heard (e.g. sensible).	possible/possibly, horrible/horribly, terrible/terribly, visible/visibly, incredible/incredibly, sensible/sensibly
The r is doubled if the - fer is still stressed when the ending is added.	referring, referred, referral, preferring, preferred, transferring, transferred
The r is not doubled if the -fer is no longer stressed.	reference, referee, preference, transference
Hyphens can be used to join a prefix to a root word, especially if the prefix ends in a vowel letter and the root word also begins with one.	co-ordinate, re-enter, co-operate, co-own

Statutory requirements
Words with the /i:/ sound spelt ei after c
Words containing the letter-string ough
Words with 'silent' letters (i.e. letters whose presence cannot be predicted from the pronunciation of the word)

Rules and guidance (non-statutory)	Example words (non-statutory)
The 'i before e except after c ' rule applies to words where the sound spelt by e i is /i:/.	deceive, conceive, receive, perceive, ceiling
Exceptions: protein, caffeine, seize (and either and neither if pronounced with an initial /i:/ sound).
ough is one of the trickiest spellings in English - it can be used to spell a number of different sounds.	ought, bought, thought, nought, brought, fought rough, tough, enough, cough, though, although, dough, through, thorough, borough, plough, bough
Some letters which are no longer sounded used to be sounded hundreds of years ago: e.g. in knight , there was a /k/ sound before the /n/, and the gh used to represent the sound that 'ch' now represents in the Scottish word loch .	doubt, island, lamb, solemn, thistle, knight

Statutory requirements

Homophones and other words that are often confused

Rules and guidance (non-statutory) Example words (non-statutory) In the pairs of words opposite, nouns end -ce and verbs end -se. Advice and advise provide advice/advise a useful clue as the word advise (verb) is pronounced with a /z/ sound - which could not be device/devise licence/license More examples: practice/practise aisle: a gangway between seats (in a church, train, plane). prophecy/prophesy isle: an island. aloud: out loud. farther: further allowed: permitted. father: a male parent affect: usually a verb (e.g. The weather may affect our plans). guessed: past tense of the verb guess effect: usually a noun (e.g. It may have an effect on our plans). If a verb, it means 'bring quest: visitor about' (e.g. He will effect changes in the running of the business). heard: past tense of the verb hear altar: a table-like piece of furniture in a church, herd: a group of animals alter: to change, led: past tense of the verb lead ascent: the act of ascending (going up). lead: present tense of that verb, or else the metal which is very heavy (as heavy as assent: to agree/agreement (verb and noun). lead) bridal: to do with a bride at a wedding. morning: before noon bridle: reins etc. for controlling a horse, mourning: grieving for someone who has died cereal: made from grain (e.g. breakfast cereal). past: noun or adjective referring to a previous time (e.g. In the past) or preposition or serial: adjective from the noun series - a succession of things one after the other. adverb showing place (e.g. he walked past me) compliment: to make nice remarks about someone (verb) or the remark that is made (noun). passed: past tense of the verb 'pass' (e.g. I passed him in the road) complement: related to the word complete - to make something complete or more complete precede: go in front of or before (e.g. her scarf complemented her outfit). proceed: go on descent: the act of descending (going down). principal: adjective - most important (e.g. principal ballerina) noun - important person dissent: to disagree/disagreement (verb and noun). (e.g. principal of a college) principle: basic truth or belief desert: as a noun - a barren place (stress on first syllable); as a verb - to abandon (stress on second syllable) profit: money that is made in selling things dessert: (stress on second syllable) a sweet course after the main course of a meal. prophet: someone who foretells the future draft: noun - a first attempt at writing something; verb - to make the first attempt; also, stationary: not moving to draw in someone (e.g. to draft in extra help) stationery: paper, envelopes etc. draught: a current of air. steal: take something that does not belong to you steel: metal wary: cautious weary: tired who's: contraction of who is or who has whose: belonging to someone (e.g. Whose jacket is that?)

Notes and guidance (non-statutory)

Teachers should continue to emphasis to pupils the relationships between sounds and letters, even when the relationships are unusual. Once root words are learnt in this way, longer words can be spelt correctly if the rules and guidance for adding prefixes and suffixes are also known. Many of the words in the list above can be used for practice in adding suffixes.

Notes and guidance (non-statutory)

Understanding the history of words and relationships between them can also help with spelling,

Examples:

- Conscience and conscious are related to science: conscience is simply science with the prefix con-added. These words come from the Latin word scio meaning I know.
- The word desperate, meaning 'without hope', is often pronounced in English as desp'rate, but the -sper- part comes from the Latin spero, meaning 'I hope', in which the e was clearly sounded.
- Familiar is related to family, so the /o/ sound in the first syllable of familiar is spelt as a.
